Roy W. Howard is an Associate Certified Coach (ACC) with the International Coaching Federation, a certified facilitator with Healthy Congregations, Dean and adjunct faculty member of the Academy of Artful Leadership (AAL) and a certified trainer with the Holy Cow consulting group.

His deepest joy comes from working with individuals and groups as they seek generative ways to come alive, address conflict and discover the call of God in their lives. Prior to his current coaching and consultant practice, Roy served for 32 years as a pastor with congregations in Kentucky, Virginia and Maryland. His other interests include photography, reading, hiking, bird-watching and walking long distances on pilgrimage.

Roy has a MSW and worked for 10 years as a clinical social worker prior to entering the pastorate. His MDiv is from Emory University Candler School of Theology and his DMin is from Wesley Theological Seminary.

Roy is the author of two books "Beyond Fairness: the Stories of Jesus" and "Walking in Love: My Journey Along the Camino de Santiago". He is married to Claudia and they have two adult daughters, Rachel and Rebecca and a beloved dog, Patrick.
